The UNCTAD Handbook of Statistics provides a comprehensive collection of statistical data relevant to the analysis of international trade, investment and development for the use of government officials, university and other research specialists, and others interested in these subjects. The publication is available in three complementary formats: the printed copy, the CD-ROM and the on-line presentation: (www.unctad.org/statistics/handbook).

As the complementary CD-ROM and Internet versions of the Handbook present the full time series of data, this printed publication focuses on recent statistics.

The tables, while largely based on existing international and national data sources, provide a compilation of data that is unique in the following ways:

- ◆ Wherever possible, data are presented in an analytical way, through the use of rank orderings, growth rates, shares and other special calculations, so as to facilitate their interpretation. Statistical classifications have been condensed into groupings of particular relevance to the analysis of trade and development.
- ◆ Time series of basic trade data cover periods that the UNCTAD secretariat considers to be particularly relevant to statistical and other applicable analysis.
- ◆ A number of the series shown represent UNCTAD secretariat estimates based on detailed research and analysis.
- ◆ Every effort has been made to take account of all available information in order to provide as complete coverage as possible for individual countries. In some cases this has involved secretariat judgements regarding data sources for a particular country.

Particular acknowledgement is made of the cooperation extended by the Statistics Division, Department of Economic and Social Affairs of the United Nations, as well as by other international organisations, in the preparation of this publication.

Le but du Manuel de statistiques de la CNUCED est de fournir, à l'intention des administrations nationales, des universitaires et autres spécialistes de la recherche, des organisations internationales, et de tous ceux que la question intéresse, l'ensemble de données statistiques essentielles à l'analyse du commerce mondial, de l'investissement et du développement. La publication est disponible dans trois formats complémentaires : l'édition imprimée, le CD-ROM et la version en ligne (www.unctad.org/statistics/handbook).

Comme les versions CD-ROM et Internet du Manuel, complémentaires à cette publication, présentent les séries chronologiques complètes, cette version imprimée fait davantage apparaître les données récentes.

Les tableaux, qui font appel principalement aux sources de données internationales et nationales existantes, forment un catalogue unique de statistiques établies de la manière suivante :

- ◆ Chaque fois que possible, les données ont été présentées d'une manière analytique, classées par ordre de grandeur, taux de croissance, parts et autres calculs spéciaux, afin d'en faciliter l'interprétation. Des groupements se prêtant particulièrement bien à l'analyse du commerce et du développement ont été réalisés au sein des nomenclatures statistiques.
- ◆ Les séries chronologiques de données de base sur le commerce couvrent des périodes que le secrétariat de la CNUCED considère être d'une importance particulière pour des analyses statistiques et autres analyses du sujet.
- ◆ Un certain nombre de séries correspondent à des estimations du secrétariat de la CNUCED fondées sur des recherches et des analyses détaillées.
- ◆ Le secrétariat s'est efforcé de tenir compte de tous les renseignements disponibles afin de broser dans chaque cas un tableau aussi complet que possible de la situation. Ce faisant, il a parfois dû opérer un choix entre différentes sources de données pour tel ou tel pays.

Le secrétariat de la CNUCED tient à remercier la Division de statistiques, Département des affaires économiques et sociales de l'ONU, et diverses organisations internationales du concours qu'elles ont apporté à la préparation de cette publication.

GENERAL NOTES

These notes summarize the coverage of each part of the Handbook and highlight modifications as compared with previous issues. Starting with the 2002 version, the UNCTAD Handbook of Statistics offers users two new parts or categories of statistics. Figures on trade in services now form a separate category (V). The part Special studies (VIII) includes some new sets of data, shown in order to further enhance the analytical value of the publication and to respond to the interests and suggestions of users.

The tables included in this book represent analytical summaries of the time series contained in the UNCTAD Handbook of Statistics database, which is also available on CD-ROM and on the Internet (www.unctad.org/statistics/handbook). The printed version includes more concise table formats, with the emphasis on recent information. In certain instances, the two electronic versions might have different figures from the printed volume, as they are published somewhat later and take into account more recent data.

PART ONE

International merchandise trade

Table 1.1A shows the value of total exports and imports for individual countries and for geographical groups, expressed in millions of dollars. The national system of reporting (general trade or special trade) and valuation is indicated. Regional totals for developed market-economy countries have been adjusted where necessary to approximate imports c.i.f. and exports f.o.b. in special trade.

The same data as in table 1.1A are shown in table 1.1B for different economic groupings.

Table 1.1C includes shares of exports and imports for different geographical and economic groups.

Growth rates of international trade, derived from tables 1.1A and 1.1B, are presented in tables 1.2A and 1.2B.

Table 1.3 contains trade balances (exports f.o.b. minus imports c.i.f.) and these balances as a percentage of imports by country, region and economic grouping.

Table 1.4 shows the relative importance of intra-trade in total trade of different trade or regional groupings, such as EU, ASEAN or COMESA, by comparing their respective exports of goods within the group, the geographical region they belong to and the world. Thirty-one different trade groups are included in this analysis.

PART TWO

Trade and commodity price indices

The group of tables 2.1 (2.1A to 2.1F) shows volume and unit value indices for exports and imports, and the terms of trade and purchasing power of exports for developed and developing countries by region and economic grouping. The indices for individual developing countries and territories are shown separately in table 8.1.

Table 2.2 includes aggregated price indices for primary commodity groups such as food, tropical beverages, vegetable oilseeds and oils, agricultural raw materials and minerals, ores and metals, as well as a combined price index in current US dollars. Also included are the annual and quarterly free market price indices of selected commodities exported by developing countries. For reference, market prices in current dollars are shown for the base year. The table is based on data from the UNCTAD Commodity Price Bulletin.

PART THREE

Structure of international trade by region

Tables 3.1A and 3.1B show, respectively, the export and import structure of individual countries by main regions of origin and destination, in percentages. Data are presented for as many individual countries as possible, while trade partners are grouped in 13 major clusters according to the UNCTAD secretariat's judgement as to their relevance for the analysis of the direction of international trade.

The group of tables 3.2.1 presents the export structure by destination and by major commodity groups for the world and selected regions, while tables grouped under the 3.2.2 heading provide the same information for imports by origin. The total of all products is presented in dollar terms, while percentages are presented for different product groups. These sets of data provide detailed information on the trade network for the world, 19 regions of origin, 20 regions of destination and 12 commodity groups. The commodity groups are based on the SITC classification. Figures in these tables are not strictly comparable with the trade data in table 1.1, mainly owing to more frequent revisions of the latter. Furthermore, certain adjustments made for total exports are not reflected here, as it is not possible to distribute them by destination. The complete data on which the figures shown are based are contained in table 3.2 of the CD-ROM and the Internet version of the UNCTAD Handbook of Statistics 2003.

PART FOUR

Structure of international trade by product

Tables 4.1A and 4.1B show, respectively, the export and import structure of individual countries and territories by commodity groups for selected years. The eight commodity groups shown, based on the SITC classification, are the following: all food items, agricultural raw materials, fuels, ores and metals, manufactured goods, chemical products, other manufactured goods, and machinery and transport equipment.

Tables 4.2A, B and C present SITC group Revision 2 (3-digit) level exports for the world, developed countries and developing countries and territories respectively. The share of the commodity in the exports of the region and world is shown, as are its annual average growth rate and its deviation from that of the world.

Table 4.2D shows the leading exports at the SITC group Revision 2 (3-digit) level for individual countries and territories. Each commodity's share in the total exports of the countries, as well as in those of the region and the world, is also presented.

Table 4.2E summarizes information on the major exporters of 70 leading commodities among developing countries and territories at the SITC group Revision 2 (3-digit) level.

PART FIVE

International trade in services

Table 5.1 presents the value of total trade in services by country, region and economic grouping. The figures refer to 11 principal service categories as defined in the IMF Balance of Payments Manual (1993, BPM 5). The aggregate figures presented also include the UNCTAD secretariat's estimates that are not shown separately. The commercial services, which exclude government services and follow the GATS definition, can be viewed as a memo item in table 5.2 on the CD-ROM version of the Handbook. Given the general difficulties in statistically capturing certain aspects of the trade in services, the balance-of-payments figures presented here may be somewhat downward biased as compared with the actual value of the international trade in services.

Table 5.2A indicates 20 major exporters, among developing countries, for each of the 10 principal service categories as defined in the IMF Balance of Payments Manual (1993, BPM 5). Table 5.2B presents the same information for 20 major importers of services among developing countries. The sectors shown are transport, travel, communication, construction, computer and information services, insurance, financial services, royalties and licence fees, other business services, personal, cultural and recreational services. Government services n.i.e. are not shown.

Table 5.3 focuses on tourism services. It presents, for individual countries and for recent years, the following statistics: value of tourism expenditure, number of overnight stays, number of arrivals and the average length of stay. All figures refer to non-resident tourists (inbound tourism).

PART SIX

International finance

Table 6.1 presents summaries of the current account of the balance of payments for all countries and territories. Balance-of-payments current account data cover all transactions between residents and non-residents of a reporting economy, involving economic values and mainly concerning goods, services, income and current transfers. Following the table are notes that provide explanations of the categories and terminology employed.

Table 6.2 contains information on foreign direct investment (FDI) inflows and outflows by country and regional grouping. These figures correspond to the Statistical Annexes of the UNCTAD's World Investment Report 2003.

Tables 6.3A and B present information on major receivers and benefactors of workers' remittances among developing countries. They also show workers' remittances as percentages of international trade data. The IMF Balance of Payments Manual (1993, BPM 5) classifies workers' remittances separately from compensation of employees and from migrants' capital transfers. Table 6.3 includes all three categories in the values shown, in order to present a clearer picture of the flows that enter or exit economies via transfers by migrant workers. These figures are not comparable with those published in the 2002 version of the Handbook, because previously only the workers' remittances were shown.

Table 6.4 presents data on international reserves (total reserves minus gold) of developing countries and territories by country, region and economic grouping. Also shown are the months of imports that these reserves could finance at current import levels, as is the annual change in total reserves.

Table 6.5 gives a summary of the different types of official financial flows to developing countries and territories by country, region and economic grouping. Flows from bilateral and multilateral sources are taken into account, as recorded by the Development Assistance Committee (DAC – OECD).

Table 6.6 shows data on the external indebtedness of developing countries and territories by region and economic grouping. It also provides a detailed breakdown of public and publicly guaranteed debt by source of lending. External debt data in this table are based on the Debtor Reporting System (DRS), maintained by the World Bank.

PART SEVEN

Indicators of development

Table 7.1 provides information on population and density, area and total and per capita current GDP (in dollars) by country, region and economic grouping. The GDP per capita estimates in US dollars presented in this table are derived from data in national currency converted into dollars at the prevailing exchange rates. Conversion of these series originally expressed in national currency into a common currency – dollars – through the use of official exchange rates is not always satisfactory owing to the deviation of the official exchange rate from purchasing power parities. It is important to take this comment into account when using the GDP per capita figures.

Table 7.2 contains annual average growth rates of total and per capita real GDP at market prices by country, region and economic grouping.

Table 7.3 provides data on GDP by type of expenditure and kind of economic activity, by country, region and economic grouping.

Table 7.4 shows selected economic and social indicators for individual countries. It contains information on population, in addition to that shown in table 7.1, and health and environment statistics. This table presents the latest available figures for each indicator and makes it possible to compare countries on the basis of different aspects of socio-economic development at a given time. Among the indicators presented are urban population, infant mortality, life expectancy, access to adequate sanitation facilities, HIV/AIDS, emissions of carbon dioxide and total energy consumption.

Table 7.5 focuses on other socio-economic data related to education, labour force, gender and migration. The latest available figure is shown for each indicator, among which are: school enrolment, illiteracy rate, unemployment rate, employment by sector, number of migrants and gender perspective statistics.

Table 7.6 presents data on telecommunications, on the development and use of new technologies, and on access to information and media by including indicators referring to the number of television sets, telephones, telecommunication costs, personal computers, the Internet, investment in telecommunications, etc.

PART EIGHT

Special studies

Table 8.1 contains tentative estimates of export and import unit value indices for individual developing countries and territories, as well as the terms of trade and purchasing power of exports derived from them. The aggregates in table 2.1 have been calculated on the basis of the figures from this table.

Table 8.2A includes the time series of export concentration and diversification indices for individual countries and territories, while table 8.2B presents the same indices for imports.

Tables 8.3A and B provide the concentration and structural change indices for exports and imports by product at the SITC group Revision 2 (3-digit) level.

Table 8.4 presents average applied import tariff rates for major categories of non-agricultural and non-fuel products by individual markets and by groups of exporting countries.

Table 8.5 presents instability indices and trends in free market prices for selected primary commodities exported by developing countries.

OTHER NOTES AND EXPLANATION OF SYMBOLS

Details and percentages in tables do not necessarily add to totals because of rounding.

"Dollars" ($) refers to US dollars, unless otherwise stated.

A zero (0) means that the amount is nil or negligible.

The symbol underscore (⏟) indicates that the item is not applicable.

Two dots (..) indicate that the data are not available or are not separately reported.

Use of a hyphen (-) between years (e.g. 1965-1970) signifies the full period involved, including the initial and final years.

DISTRIBUTION OF COUNTRIES AND TERRITORIES

THREE MAIN GROUPS OF COUNTRIES / TERRITORIES

The country distributions presented on the following pages have been adopted for statistical convenience only and follow those used by the Statistics Division, Department of Economic and Social Affairs (DESA) of the United Nations.

However, the Republic of South Africa, in previous years listed within the group of "Developed market economies", has from this issue of the Handbook been included in the cluster of "Developing countries" in order to align the presentation of groupings in the Handbook of Statistics with that of other main UNCTAD publications. Also, the five countries that succeeded from the former SFR Yugoslavia, and which previously formed a group "Developing countries in Europe", are now added to the grouping "Central and Eastern Europe". "Developing countries in Europe" are no longer shown.

Developed market economy countries / territories:

In Europe:

Austria	Greece	Netherlands
Belgium	Iceland	Norway
Denmark	Ireland	Portugal

Croatia	Republic of	Slovenia
Czech Republic	Poland	Ukraine
Estonia	Republic of Moldova

Developing countries / territories:

All other countries and territories in Africa, America, Asia and Oceania not specified above. For developing countries and territories, the main regions have been further subdivided into subregions to provide additional information.

A number of economic classifications have been used in the UNCTAD Handbook of Statistics in order to reflect more accurately differences among developing countries and territories, and thus to facilitate the analysis of socio-economic data. These classifications distinguish, in the first instance, between the major petroleum-exporting countries and other developing countries and territories. The latter are in turn subdivided into two categories: (a) major exporters of manufactures, and (b) remaining countries distributed by major geographical regions.

The group "Major petroleum exporters" consists of all 11 OPEC member countries. In addition, nine non-OPEC countries are included on the basis of the following criteria: the share of petroleum and petroleum products was not less than 40 per cent of total exports, and exports of those products amounted to at least US$ 1 billion on average in the period 1997-1998.

The group "Major exporters of manufactures" contains 12 countries/territories included on the basis of the following criteria: the share of manufactured products was not less than 50 per cent of total exports, and exports of those products amounted to at least US$ 20 billion on average in the period 1997-1998.

In addition, all developing countries have been classified, according to their per capita GDP in 1995, into three groupings: high-income, middle-income and low-income countries.

For further reference, the groups of "Least developed countries" (LDC), "Heavily indebted poor countries" (HIPC) and "Landlocked countries" are shown as memo items. Certain tables include the grouping "Developing countries excluding China", which refers to mainland China only. "Newly industrialized economies in Asia" (NIE in Asia) form another group, as does "Sub-Saharan Africa" (South Africa excluded).

Trade groupings (e.g. ASEAN, EU, LAIA) are included in certain tables, which makes it possible to include groups that cut across regions, such as CIS and APEC.

All groups are presented on the basis of the latest information available in May 2003.

NOTES GENERALES

Ces notes donnent des indications sur le contenu de chaque partie du Manuel, en particulier sur les modifications apportées par rapport aux précédentes éditions. A partir de l'année 2002, deux nouveautés ont été introduites dans le Manuel de statistiques de la CNUCED. Les statistiques sur le commerce des services forment une partie à part (V) et la partie Etudes spéciales (VIII) comprend plusieurs nouveaux ensembles de données, afin de renforcer un peu plus la valeur analytique de la publication et de répondre aux intérêts et suggestions des utilisateurs.

Les tableaux inclus dans cette publication constituent un résumé analytique des séries chronologiques de la base de données du Manuel de statistiques de la CNUCED, disponible sur CD-ROM et sur Internet (www.unctad.org/statistics/handbook). La version imprimée présente les mêmes tableaux dans un format concis, avec toutefois une place plus grande consacrée aux informations récentes. Les données dans les deux versions électroniques pourront, dans certaines cas, être différentes de celles de la variante imprimée en raison de leur publication à une date ultérieure.

PREMIERE PARTIE

Commerce international des marchandises

Le tableau 1.1A donne la valeur des exportations et des importations totales de marchandises par pays et par groupements régionaux et économiques, exprimée en millions de dollars. Le système national d'enregistrement (commerce général ou commerce spécial) et d'évaluation est indiqué. Les totaux régionaux pour les pays développés à économie de marché ont été ajustés, si nécessaire, en vue d'obtenir la valeur approchée des importations c.a.f. et des exportations f.a.b. dans le commerce spécial.

Les mêmes données sont présentées dans le tableau 1.1B pour des groupements économiques différents.

Le tableau 1.1C présente les parts dans les exportations et les importations de différents groupements géographiques et économiques.

Les taux de croissance calculés à partir des valeurs des tableaux 1.1A et 1.1B figurent aux tableaux 1.2A et 1.2B.

Le tableau 1.3 fait apparaître les balances commerciales (exportations f.a.b. moins importations c.a.f.), ainsi que ces mêmes balances en pourcentage des importations par pays, par régions et par groupements économiques.

Le tableau 1.4 indique l'importance relative des échanges intrarégionaux dans le commerce total des groupements commerciaux, comme l'UE, l'ANASE ou la COMESA. Il présente la valeur de leurs exportations de marchandises au sein du groupement, ainsi que leur part dans le commerce régional et mondial. 31 groupes commerciaux sont inclus dans cette analyse.

DEUXIEME PARTIE

Indices du commerce et des prix des produits de base

Le groupe de tableaux 2.1 (2.1A à 2.1F) fournit les indices du volume et de la valeur unitaire des exportations et des importations, ainsi que des termes de l'échange et du pouvoir d'achat des exportations, pour les pays développés et les pays en développement par régions et par groupements économiques. Les indices concernant les pays et territoires en développement figurent au tableau 8.1.

Le tableau 2.2 donne les indices de prix agrégés pour les groupes de produits de base tels que les produits alimentaires, les boissons tropicales, les huiles et graines oléagineuses, les matières premières d'origine agricole, les minéraux, minerais et métaux ainsi qu'un indice de l'ensemble en dollars courants des Etats-Unis. Il contient également des indices annuels et trimestriels de prix sur le marché libre d'une sélection de produits de base exportés par les pays en développement. Pour mémoire, les prix du marché en dollars courants sont donnés pour l'année de base. Ce tableau a été établi à partir de données extraites du Bulletin des prix des produits de base de la CNUCED.

TROISIEME PARTIE

Structure du commerce international par régions

Les tableaux 3.1A et 3.1B présentent respectivement la structure des exportations et des importations des pays par régions d'origine et de destination. Le plus grand nombre possible de pays en développement sont inclus dans cette étude, tandis que les partenaires commerciaux sont regroupés en 13 groupes, considérés particulièrement importants pour analyser les flux du commerce international.

Le groupe de tableaux 3.2.1 indique la structure des exportations par destinations et par principaux groupes de produits pour le monde et pour certaines régions, tandis que les tableaux sous le titre 3.2.2 donnent les mêmes renseignements concernant les importations par origines. Ces ensembles de données fournissent les informations détaillées sur le réseau du commerce international, 19 régions d'origine, 20 régions de destination et 12 groupes de produits. Ces derniers se basent sur la classification CTCl. Les données dans ce tableau ne sont pas strictement comparables à celles du tableau 1.1, principalement en raison de la révision plus fréquente de ces dernières. De plus, certains ajustements apportés aux totaux des exportations ne figurent pas dans le présent tableau du fait qu'il n'est pas possible de les répartir par destination. Les données complètes à partir desquelles ces tableaux ont été composés sont disponibles dans le tableau 3.2 des versions CD-ROM et Internet du Manuel de statistiques de la CNUCED 2003.

QUATRIEME PARTIE

Structure du commerce international par produits

Les tableaux 4.1A et 4.1B font apparaître la structure des exportations et des importations des pays et territoires par catégories de produits pour une sélection d'années. Huit groupes de produits, qui se basent sur la classification CTCl, sont présentés : les produits alimentaires, les matières premières d'origine agricole, les combustibles, les minerais et métaux, les produits manufacturés, les produits chimiques, les articles manufacturés divers, ainsi que les machines et le matériel de transport.

Dans les tableaux 4.2A, B et C sont présentées respectivement les exportations du monde, des pays développés et des pays et territoires en développement, par groupes de la CTCl (position à trois chiffres [Révision 2]). On y trouve également la part de chaque groupe de produits dans les exportations de la région et du monde, ainsi que le taux annuel moyen de croissance correspondant et l'écart de ce dernier par rapport au taux de croissance mondial.

Le tableau 4.2D fait apparaître, pour les différents pays et territoires, les principaux produits qu'ils exportent (position à trois chiffres de la CTCl [Révision 2]). La part de chaque produit dans le total des exportations du pays, de la région et du monde est également indiquée.

Le tableau 4.2E indique les plus gros exportateurs des 70 principaux produits exportés par les pays et territoires en développement (position à trois chiffres de la CTCl [Révision 2]), ainsi que les parts correspondantes.

CINQUIEME PARTIE

Commerce international des services

Le tableau 5.1 présente la valeur des exportations et des importations des services par pays, par régions et par groupements économiques. Les services se divisent en 11 catégories principales, conformément à la définition du Manuel de la balance des paiements du FMI (1993, MBP 5). Les agrégats incluent les valeurs estimées par le secrétariat de la CNUCED qui ne sont pas présentées séparément. Les services commerciaux, qui excluent les services des administrations publiques et suivent la définition des AGCS, sont présentés pour mémoire dans le tableau 5.2 du Manuel de statistiques de la CNUCED 2003 sur CD-ROM. De manière générale, les difficultés à mesurer statistiquement la valeur du commerce des services persistent et les données de la balance des paiements sur les services peuvent être inférieures à la valeur des transactions réelles.

Le tableau 5.2A fait apparaître les 20 plus gros pays exportateurs, parmi les pays en développement, pour chacune des 10 catégories principales de services, selon la définition du Manuel de la balance des paiements du FMI (1993, MBP 5). Le tableau 5.2B fournit les mêmes informations sur les 20 plus gros pays importateurs de services parmi les pays en développement. Les secteurs présentés sont : les transports, les voyages, les communications, le bâtiment et les travaux publics, l'informatique et l'information, les assurances, les services financiers, les redevances et droits de licence, les services personnels, culturels et relatifs aux loisirs et les services fournis ou reçus par les administrations publiques. Les services fournis ou reçus par les administrations publiques, n.c.a. ne sont pas inclus.

Le tableau 5.3 fournit les données sur les services liés au tourisme en présentant, par pays et pour les années récentes, les statistiques suivantes : montant des dépenses des touristes, nombre des nuitées des touristes, nombre des arrivées et durée moyenne de séjour. Tous les indicateurs se réfèrent aux touristes non résidents qui visitent le pays déclarant.

SIXIEME PARTIE

Flux financiers internationaux

Le tableau 6.1 contient un état récapitulatif du «compte courant» des balances des paiements de tous les pays et territoires. Les données du compte des transactions courantes de la balance des paiements recouvrent toutes les transactions, entre entités résidentes et non résidentes, portant sur des valeurs économiques, concernant principalement les biens, les services, les revenus et les transferts courants. Des notes explicatives concernant les catégories et la terminologie employée se trouvent à la suite du tableau.

Le tableau 6.2 est consacré aux investissements directs en provenance de l'étranger (IDE) et présente les flux entrants et sortants par pays et par groupements régionaux. Ces chiffres correspondent aux données présentées dans l'Annexe statistique du World Investment Report 2003 de la CNUCED.

Les tableaux 6.3A et B fournissent des informations sur les principaux pays en développement destinataires et expéditeurs des envois de fonds des travailleurs. En plus, ils présentent les versements des travailleurs en pourcentage du commerce international. Le Manuel de la balance des paiements du FMI (1993, MBP 5) classe séparément les versements des travailleurs, la rémunération des salariés et les transferts de capital des migrants. Les valeurs dans le tableau 6.3 incluent les trois catégories mentionnées, afin de broser une présentation plus exhaustive des flux entrants ou sortants d'une économie à travers les transferts réalisés par les travailleurs migrants. Les chiffres ne sont pas comparables avec ceux publiés dans la version 2002 du Manuel de statistiques, qui incluaient seulement les versements des travailleurs.

Le tableau 6.4 fournit les données relatives aux réserves internationales (les réserves totales moins l'or) des pays et territoires en développement par pays, par régions et par groupements économiques. Les mois d'importation que ces réserves peuvent financer, dans la situation actuelle du commerce international du pays, sont également indiqués, ainsi que la variation annuelle des réserves totales.

Le tableau 6.5 fait apparaître la composition des flux financiers officiels vers les pays et territoires en développement par pays, par régions et par groupements économiques. Les flux bilatéraux et multilatéraux sont pris en compte, selon les publications du Comité d'aide au développement (CAD – OCDE).

Le tableau 6.6 contient des données sur la dette extérieure des pays et territoires en développement par régions et par groupements économiques, ainsi qu'une ventilation détaillée de la dette publique ou garantie par l'état par sources d'emprunt. Les données de la dette extérieure présentées dans ce tableau se basent sur le Système de notification des pays débiteurs (SNPD), géré par la Banque mondiale.

SEPTIEME CATEGORIE

Indicateurs du développement

Le tableau 7.1 fournit des renseignements sur le chiffre et la densité de la population, la superficie et le PIB courant total et par habitant (en dollars), par pays, par régions et par groupements économiques. Les estimations du PIB par habitant (en dollars) présentées dans ce tableau ont été obtenues à partir de données en monnaies nationales converties en dollars, en appliquant les taux de change officiels en vigueur. Il n'est pas toujours satisfaisant de ramener la valeur de séries de ce type à une devise commune - le dollar des Etats-Unis - en appliquant les taux de change officiels. Il convient d'en tenir compte dans l'utilisation de données relatives aux PIB par habitant.

Le tableau 7.2 indique les taux annuels moyens de croissance du PIB réel total et du PIB par tête d'habitant au prix de marché, par pays, par régions et par groupements économiques.

Le tableau 7.3 contient les données sur la structure du PIB par catégories de dépenses et par branches d'activité économique, par pays, par régions et par groupements économiques.

Le tableau 7.4 présente quelques indicateurs économiques et sociaux pour les différents pays. Il fournit des données relatives à la population, en plus de ce qui est montré dans le tableau 7.1, ainsi que des statistiques relatives à la santé et l'environnement. Grâce aux dernières données disponibles, le tableau permet la comparaison des pays à travers différents aspects de leur développement socio-économique. Parmi les indicateurs présentés, on trouve : la population urbaine, la mortalité infantile, l'espérance de vie, la disponibilité des sanitaires, le VIH/SIDA, les émissions de dioxyde de carbone, la consommation totale d'énergie.

Le tableau 7.5 présente d'autres indicateurs socio-économiques par pays relatifs à l'éducation, à la main-d'œuvre, à l'égalité entre femmes et hommes et aux migrations. Les dernières données disponibles sont prises en compte pour tous les indicateurs parmi lesquels figurent : les inscriptions scolaires, l'éducation des femmes, l'analphabétisme, le taux de chômage, le taux de chômage féminin, la main-d'œuvre par secteur, le nombre de migrants.

Le tableau 7.6 contient des données relatives aux télécommunications, au développement et à l'usage des nouvelles technologies, ainsi qu'à l'informatique et l'accès aux médias. Ce tableau inclut des indicateurs sur les postes téléviseurs, les téléphones, les ordinateurs personnels, l'Internet, l'investissement dans les télécommunications, etc.

HUITIEME PARTIE

Etudes spéciales

Le tableau 8.1 fait apparaître des estimations provisoires des indices de la valeur unitaire des exportations et des importations pour différents pays et territoires en développement, ainsi que les termes de l'échange et le pouvoir d'achat des exportations calculés à partir de ces indices. Les agrégats présentés dans le tableau 2.1 sont calculés à partir des estimations qui figurent ici.

Le tableau 8.2A contient les séries de données sur les indices de concentration et de diversification des exportations des pays et territoires individuels, tandis que le tableau 8.2B présente les mêmes indices pour les importations.

Les tableaux 8.3A et B fournissent les indices de concentration et de changements structurels des exportations et des importations par groupes de produits de la CTCl (position à trois chiffres [Révision 2]).

Le tableau 8.4 contient les droits de douane moyens appliqués à l'importation des principales catégories de produits non-agricoles et non-pétroliers, par marchés individuels et par groupes de pays exportateurs.

Le tableau 8.5 présente les indices d'instabilité et les tendances des prix sur le marché libre d'une sélection de produits de base importés par les pays en développement

AUTRES NOTES ET EXPLICATIONS DES SYMBOLES

La somme des chiffres et des pourcentages indiqués dans les tableaux ne correspond pas nécessairement aux totaux en raison des arrondis.

Sauf indication contraire, le terme «dollar» s'entend du dollar des Etats-Unis d'Amérique.

Un zéro (0) signifie que le montant est nul ou négligeable.

Un tiret (—) signifie que la rubrique est sans objet.

Deux points (..) signifient que les données ne sont pas disponibles ou ne sont pas communiquées séparément.

Le trait d'union (-) entre deux millésimes (par exemple 1965-1970) indique qu'il s'agit de la période tout entière (y compris la première et la dernière année mentionnées).

REPARTITION DES PAYS ET TERRITOIRES

TROIS GRANDS GROUPES DE PAYS / TERRITOIRES

Les répartitions des pays, présentées dans les pages suivantes, sont adoptées uniquement pour des raisons de présentation statistique et sont celles qu'utilise la Division de statistique, Département des affaires économiques et sociales (DAES) de l'ONU.

Toutefois, à partir de cette publication du Manuel de statistiques de la CNUCED et afin d'harmoniser la présentation avec celle des autres principales publications de la CNUCED, la République sud-africaine est incluse dans le groupement des «Pays et territoires en développement», tandis que, avant, elle faisait partie du groupe des «Pays développés à économie de marché». En plus, les 5 pays qui ont succédé à l'ancienne Yougoslavie, RSF, font partie du groupement de «l'Europe centrale et orientale». Ces pays formaient auparavant le groupe des «Pays en développement en Europe», qui ne figure plus dans le Manuel.

En Amérique : Canada et Etats-Unis d'Amérique

En Asie : Israël et Japon

En Océanie : Australie et Nouvelle-Zélande

Europe centrale et orientale :

Albanie	Hongrie	République tchèque
Bélarus	Lettonie	Roumanie
Bosnie-Herzégovine	Lituanie	Serbie-et-Monténégro
Bulgarie	Macédoine, ex-République yougoslave de	Slovaquie
Croatie	Pologne	Slovénie
Estonie	République de Moldova	Ukraine
Fédération de Russie

Pays et territoires en développement :

Tous les autres pays et territoires d'Afrique, d'Amérique, d'Asie et d'Océanie non mentionnés ci-dessus. Les grandes régions couvrant l'ensemble des pays et territoires développés et en développement ont été divisées en sous-régions pour permettre la présentation de renseignements supplémentaires.

Dans le Manuel de statistiques de la CNUCED, un certain nombre de classifications économiques sont utilisées afin de mieux faire ressortir les différences entre pays et territoires en développement et ainsi faciliter l'analyse des données socio-économiques. Ces classifications distinguent, en premier lieu, les principaux pays exportateurs de pétrole des autres pays et territoires en développement. Ces derniers ont été à leur tour répartis en deux sous-catégories: a) principaux exportateurs d'articles manufacturés et b) autres pays. La rubrique «Autres pays» a été elle-même subdivisée d'après les principales régions géographiques.

Le groupement «Principaux exportateurs de pétrole» comprend les 11 pays membres de l'OPEP. En plus, il inclut 9 pays non-membres de l'OPEP choisis en fonction des critères suivants : la part du pétrole et des produits pétroliers ne représentait pas moins de 40% de leurs exportations totales, et les exportations de ces produits s'élevaient au moins à 1 milliard de dollars en 1997-1998 en moyenne.

Le groupement des «Principaux exportateurs d'articles manufacturés» comprend 12 pays/territoires sélectionnés en fonction des critères suivants : la part d'articles manufacturés ne représentait pas moins de 50% de leurs exportations totales, et leurs exportations d'articles manufacturés avaient une valeur moyenne d'au moins 20 milliards de dollars en 1997-1998.

Les groupements économiques sont divisés en trois groupes de revenu (en fonction du PIB par habitant en 1995) : revenu élevé, revenu intermédiaire et revenu faible.

En plus, les groupements des «Pays les moins avancés» (PMA), «Pays pauvres très endettés» (PPTE) et «Pays enclavés» sont présentés pour mémoire. Certaines tableaux incluent aussi le groupe des «Pays en développement, Chine non comprise», qui se réfère seulement à la Chine continentale. «Nouvelles économies industrialisées d'Asie» (NEI d'Asie) forment un autre groupement, ainsi que «l'Afrique subsaharienne» (autres pays d'Afrique, Afrique du Sud non comprise).

Les groupements commerciaux (par exemple Union européenne, ALADI, Accord de Bangkok) sont inclus dans un certain nombre de tableaux. Cela a permis de faire figurer des groupements à caractère interrégional tels que la CEI et la CEAP.

Les dernières informations disponibles au mois de mai 2003 ont été prises en compte pour présenter les groupements contenus dans ce Manuel de statistiques.

Structure of international trade by region

Sources: UNCTAD secretariat computations based on UN/DESA/Statistics Division data.

General note:

With certain exceptions specified in the notes, regions shown are defined as in the introduction.

Data in this table are not strictly comparable with the export and import data in table 1.1, mainly owing to more frequent revisions of the latter table. Furthermore, certain adjustments made for total exports are not reflected in this table as it is not possible to distribute them by destination and commodity group.

The commodity classification is in accordance with the United Nations Standard International Trade Classification (SITC).

Data shown in these tables are based on official export figures converted to US dollars. Where official figures were not available, estimates have been based on imports reported by partner countries and on other subsidiary data. The data have been adjusted: (a) to include estimates for countries and territories for which either no official data are available, or for which data are not officially analysed by the SITC; (b) to approximate calendar years; (c) where possible, to include ships' stores and bunkers in total exports. Except for a few countries, figures are in accordance with the special trade system.

It should be noted that while data in these tables show exports by destination, these data may differ considerably from data on imports as reported by countries of destination. The differences are accounted for by a variety of factors, among which the following may be of particular importance:

(1) Most import data are reported on a c.i.f. rather than an f.o.b. basis.

(2) Imports arrive at destination, and are registered with some time-lag from the date they were recorded as exports.

(3) There may be considerable differences between the recorded destination of exports and the actual destination as shown in import statistics. Similarly, the SITC classification used by the exporting country may differ from the one assigned by the importing country.

(4) Both exports and imports may, for various reasons, be over- or under-invoiced (to avoid taxes or controls or to facilitate capital flight).

Despite efforts to allocate trade flows by destination, origin and commodity group a margin of unallocated trade flows remains.

Footnotes:

1 Includes special category exports, ships' stores and bunkers and other exports of minor importance whose destination could not be determined.

2 Exports of the former USSR for which countries of destination could not be attributed are included in the totals of the world, the developed market economy countries and the developing countries and territories, but data are not available to allow their inclusion in the figures for the components of these regions. They are also excluded from the commodity groups by destination data.

3 Beginning in 1995, including Central Asia (Armenia, Azerbaijan, Georgia, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan).

4 Prior to 1995, including all countries of the former USSR. Beginning in 1995, including the European countries of the former USSR.

5 Prior to 2000, data refer to the Southern African Customs Union (Botswana, Lesotho, Namibia, South Africa, Swaziland); beginning with 2000, they refer solely to South Africa.

Structure du commerce international par région

Sources : Calculs du secrétariat de la CNUCED basés sur des données de ONU/DAES/Division de statistique.

Remarques générales :

En dehors de certaines exceptions spécifiées dans les notes, les régions indiquées sont définies de la même manière que dans l'introduction.

Les données présentées dans ce tableau ne sont pas strictement comparables à celles des exportations et importations du tableau 1.1, principalement en raison de la révision plus fréquente de ces dernières. De plus, certains ajustements apportés au total des exportations n'apparaissent pas dans le présent tableau du fait qu'il n'est pas possible de les répartir par destination et groupe de produits.

La classification par produits utilisée est la Classification type pour le commerce international (CTCI) des Nations Unies.

Les données présentées dans ce tableau sont fondées essentiellement sur des chiffres officiels d'exportation, convertis en dollars des Etats-Unis. Quand les chiffres officiels n'étaient pas disponibles, on a eu recours à des estimations basées sur les importations déclarées par les pays partenaires ou sur d'autres données subsidiaires. Les données ont été ajustées pour : a) que soient incluses les estimations faites pour les pays ne fournissant pas de données officielles ou dont les données ne sont pas analysées selon la CTCI; b) qu'elles correspondent aux années civiles; c) que les exportations de combustibles de soute et avitaillement des navires et aéronefs étrangers soient, dans la mesure du possible, comprises dans les totaux. À l'exception de quelques pays, les chiffres correspondent au commerce spécial.

Il faut relever que les données se rapportant aux exportations ventilées par destination présentées dans ces tableaux peuvent accuser un écart considérable par rapport aux données des importations déclarées par les pays destinataires. Cet écart est dû à divers facteurs dont les suivants sont d'une importance particulière :

1. Les importations sont déclarées en principe "valeur c.a.f." plutôt que "valeur f.a.b".
2. Les importations de marchandises peuvent arriver à destination et être enregistrées longtemps après la date de leur enregistrement à l'exportation.
3. D'importantes différences peuvent exister entre la destination des exportations déclarée par les pays exportateurs et la destination réelle telle qu'indiquée dans les statistiques d'importation. De même, une version différente de la CTCI peut avoir été utilisée par le pays exportateur et le pays importateur.
4. Les exportations et les importations peuvent, pour différentes raisons, avoir été sous-évaluées ou surévaluées (pour éviter le paiement de taxes, éviter leur contrôle ou faciliter la fuite de capitaux).

En dépit des efforts déployés pour répartir les flux commerciaux par destination, origine et groupes de produits, il subsiste encore une marge d'exportations et d'importations non distribuées.

Notes :

- 1 Y compris les exportations de catégorie spéciale, combustibles de soute et avitaillement des navires et aéronefs et autres exportations de moindre importance dont la destination n'a pas pu être déterminée.
- 2 Les exportations en provenance de l'ancienne URSS pour lesquelles chaque pays de destination n'a pu être déterminé séparément sont incluses dans les totaux du monde, des pays développés à économie de marché et des pays et territoires en développement, mais ne sont pas comprises dans les exportations vers chaque partie composant ces régions. Elles sont également exclues des données détaillées par groupes de produits et par destinations.
- 3 À partir de 1995, y compris l'Asie centrale (l'Arménie, l'Azerbaïdjan, la Géorgie, le Kazakhstan, le Kirghizistan, l'Ouzbékistan, le Tadjikistan et le Turkménistan).
- 4 Avant 1995, y compris tous les pays de l'ancienne URSS. À partir de 1995, y compris les pays européens de l'ancienne URSS.
- 5 Avant 2000, les données se rapportent à l'Union douanière d'Afrique australe (Afrique du Sud, Botswana, Lesotho, Namibie, Swaziland); à partir de 2000, elles se réfèrent à l'Afrique du Sud uniquement.

Export structure

Explanatory notes for table 4.2

Source: UNCTAD secretariat computations based on UN, DESA, Statistics Division data.

In the case of tables 4.2A, B and C, columns (1) and (4) show export values f.o.b. in millions of dollars. Columns (2) and (5) show the percentage share of each commodity in the grouping total (i.e. "World" in table 4.2A, "Developed market economy countries" in table 4.2B, and "Developing countries and territories" in table 4.2C).

Columns (3) and (6) refer to the percentage share which the indicated value (for a particular commodity in a particular country grouping) represents in world total exports of that commodity. For the purpose of these tables, the world total for each commodity represents the sum of the exports of that commodity for each of the individual countries, adjusted to include estimates where data for 1990, 1991, 2000 or 2001 were not available.

Column (7) shows compound annual average growth rates, based on the values for 2000 and 2001.

Column (8) shows the amount by which the growth rate in column (7) differs from the corresponding average world growth for the particular commodity (as shown in table 4.2A).

In the case of tables 4.2D and 4.2E, column (1) shows export values f.o.b. in thousands of dollars. Column (2) shows, for each commodity presented, its percentage share in the individual country's export total.

In table 4.2D column (3) shows the relative importance of each commodity shown, expressed as a percentage share of the relevant grouping total for that commodity (i.e. "developed", which refers to developed market economy countries; "developing", which refers to developing countries and territories; or "C.&E. Europe", which refers to the countries in Central and Eastern Europe). The symbol  is defined for each country shown and indicates the grouping total to which the percentage share shown applies.

In the case of table 4.2E, column (3) refers only to the share of individual developing countries in the particular commodity total for all developing countries.

Column (4) refers to the percentage share which the value indicated (for a particular commodity in a particular country or country grouping) represents in world total exports of that commodity. The world total for each commodity, for the purpose of these tables, represents the sum of the exports of that commodity for each of the individual countries, adjusted to include estimates where data for 2000 and 2001 were not available.

While the groupings and world totals for each commodity (shown in tables 4.2A, B and C) are based on the most complete data available for each of the individual countries, the data actually shown in table 4.2 D have been limited to the 10 most important commodity exports for each country in cases in which sufficient data were available.

For convenience, the "remainder" (i.e. all commodities other than the ones explicitly shown in the table) is given in table 4.2D. The relatively large size of this remainder in the case of the developed market economy countries, the more advanced developing countries and the countries in Central and Eastern Europe results from the higher degree of diversification of exports.

Structure des exportations

Notes explicatives du tableau 4.2

Source : Calculs du secrétariat de la CNUCED fondés sur des données de la Division de statistique, DAES, des Nations Unies.

Dans le cas des tableaux 4.2A, B et C, les colonnes (1) et (4) présentent la valeur des exportations f.a.b. en millions de dollars. Les colonnes (2) et (5) présentent la part en pourcentage de chaque produit dans le total du groupement, c'est-à-dire «Monde» dans le tableau 4.2A, «Pays développés à économie de marché» dans le tableau 4.2B et «Pays et territoires en développement» dans le tableau 4.2C.

Les colonnes (3) et (6) se réfèrent à la part en pourcentage que la valeur indiquée (pour un produit déterminé dans un pays ou groupement de pays déterminés) représente dans le total des exportations mondiales de ce produit. Dans ces tableaux, le total mondial pour chaque produit représente la somme des exportations de ce produit pour chaque pays, ajustée pour y inclure des estimations lorsque les données de 1990, 1991, 2000 ou 2001 n'étaient pas disponibles.

La colonne (7) présente les taux d'accroissement annuel moyen, calculés d'après les valeurs de 2000 et 2001.

La colonne (8) présente la différence en points entre le taux d'accroissement dans la colonne (7) et le taux d'accroissement moyen mondial pour le produit déterminé (comme indiqué dans le tableau 4.2A).

Dans le cas des tableaux 4.2D et 4.2E, la colonne (1) montre la valeur des exportations f.a.b. en milliers de dollars. La colonne (2) montre, pour chaque produit indiqué, sa part en pourcentage dans le total des exportations du pays concerné.

Dans le tableau 4.2D la colonne (3) montre l'importance relative de chaque produit indiqué, présenté en termes de pourcentage du total du groupement auquel le pays appartient («developed» se réfère aux pays développés à économie de marché, «developing» aux pays et territoires en développement, et "C.&E. Europe" aux pays de l'Europe centrale et orientale). Le symbole  est défini pour chaque pays inclus et se réfère au groupement auquel la part en pourcentage donnée correspond.

Dans le cas du tableau 4.2E, la colonne (3) se rapporte seulement à la part de chaque pays en développement dans le total des exportations des pays en développement du produit déterminé.

La colonne (4) se réfère à la part en pourcentage que la valeur indiquée (pour un produit déterminé dans un pays ou groupement de pays déterminés) représente dans le total des exportations mondiales de ce produit. Dans ces tableaux, le total mondial pour chaque produit représente la somme des exportations de ce produit pour chaque pays, ajustée pour inclure des estimations lorsque les données de 2000 et 2001 n'étaient pas disponibles.

Les totaux du monde ou des groupements de pays pour chaque produit (figurant dans les tableaux 4.2A, B et C) sont fondés sur toutes les données disponibles pour chaque pays, alors que les chiffres présentés dans le tableau 4.2 D ont été limités aux 10 produits majeurs exportés pour chaque pays, lorsque les données étaient disponibles.

Pour plus de commodité, le «remainder» (reste) est indiqué dans le tableau 4.2D (il représente l'ensemble des produits autres que ceux explicitement inscrits au tableau). La relative importance de ce reste dans le cas des pays développés à économie de marché, des pays les plus avancés parmi les pays en développement ainsi que des pays d'Europe centrale et orientale, résulte du très haut degré de diversification de leurs exportations.

Export structure
Explanatory notes for table 4.2
(concluded)

In the case of some of the developing countries and some of the countries in Central and Eastern Europe, a high remainder may indicate incomplete data on the commodity structure, with a relatively large "unallocated" share. (See also table 4.1A.)

Table 4.2E shows 10 leading developing exporting countries for each of the 70 commodity groups, selected on the basis of ranking by value presented in table 4.2C. In addition, the sub-table on each commodity group shows the world total, the total exports from developed market economy countries and developing countries and territories.

Special transactions and commodities not classified according to kind falling within SITC Rev. 2 group 931 may include confidential data.

The French equivalent of the country names shown in table 4.2E can be found in table 4.2D. The French equivalent for the 3-digit SITC classification shown in the group of tables 4.2 may be found in the English/French Glossary of 3-digit SITC Commodity Groups, included after these Explanatory Notes.

Note for tables in part 4:

The figures shown refer in general to special or national trade. They may therefore differ from those in table 1.1A.

Structure des exportations
Notes explicatives du tableau 4.2
(fin)

Dans le cas de certains pays en développement et de pays d'Europe centrale et orientale, un reste élevé peut indiquer des données incomplètes sur la structure des produits, avec une part «non distribuée» relativement élevée. (Voir également le tableau 4.1A.)

Le tableau 4.2E présente les 10 principaux pays en développement exportateurs pour chacun des 70 groupes de produits, sélectionnés sur la base du classement par valeur présenté dans le tableau 4.2C. De plus, le sous-tableau de chaque groupe de produits fait apparaître le total mondial, le total des exportations des pays développés à économie de marché et des pays et territoires en développement.

Les transactions spéciales et articles non classés par catégories inscrites au groupe 931 de la CTCl Rev. 2 peuvent inclure des données confidentielles.

Pour la traduction des noms des pays présentés dans le tableau 4.2E, se reporter au tableau 4.2D. Pour la traduction des groupes de la CTCl (position à trois chiffres) présentés dans le groupe de tableaux 4.2, se reporter au Glossaire anglais/français de la CTCl au niveau des groupes de produits (position à trois chiffres), qui apparaît après ces Notes explicatives.

Note relative aux tableaux de la partie 4 :

Les données présentées correspondent en général au commerce spécial ou national. Elles peuvent, par conséquent, dans certains cas, être différentes de celles présentées dans le tableau 1.1A.

Sources: UNCTAD secretariat calculations based on IMF, Balance of Payments Statistics on CD-ROM.

Notes: The table shows values of exports (credits) and imports (debits) of services that were derived from statistics on international service transactions as presented in the IMF's Balance of Payments Statistics. Services are defined as the economic output of intangible commodities that may be produced, transferred and consumed at the same time.

Services figures shown here comprise 11 principal services categories according to the concepts and definitions of the IMF Balance of Payments Manual (1993, BPM 5). The aggregate data from table 5.1 include the UNCTAD secretariat's estimates of missing values that are not shown separately.

The 11 principal BPM 5 service components included in the figures are transport, travel, communications, construction, insurance, financial services, computer and information services, royalties and license fees, other business services, personal, cultural and recreational services, and government services n.i.e. For more detailed explanations of each of these categories, as well as of certain inconsistencies that may arise in methods of reporting by different countries, please refer to the IMF Balance of Payments Manual. Given the general difficulties in statistically capturing certain aspects of the trade in services, the balance-of-payments figures presented here may be somewhat downward-biased as compared with the actual value of the international trade in services.

Sources : Secrétariat de la CNUCED, calculs basés sur FMI, Balance of Payments Statistics sur CD-ROM.

Notes : Le tableau présente les valeurs des exportations (crédits) et des importations (débits) des services qui ont été dérivées des statistiques sur les transactions internationales de services, comme elles sont présentées dans FMI Balance of Payments Statistics. Les services sont définis comme rendements économiques des produits intangibles qui peuvent être produits, transférés et consommés au même moment.

Les chiffres présentés comprennent 11 catégories principales de services conformément aux concepts et définitions du Manuel de la balance des paiements du FMI (1993, MBP 5). Les agrégats inclus dans le tableau 5.1 comprennent les valeurs manquantes estimées par le secrétariat de la CNUCED et qui ne sont pas montrées séparément.

Les 11 catégories principales des services du MBP 5, qui sont incluses dans les chiffres présentés, comprennent : transports, voyages, communications, services de bâtiment et travaux publics, assurances, services financiers, services d'informatique et d'information, redevances et droits de licence, autres services aux entreprises, services personnels, culturels et relatifs aux loisirs et les services fournis ou reçus par les administrations publiques. Pour une explication plus détaillée de chacune de ces catégories, ainsi que pour des indications supplémentaires sur certaines incohérences qui peuvent exister dans les méthodes statistiques employées par différents pays, veuillez vous référer au Manuel de la balance des paiements du FMI. De manière générale, les difficultés à mesurer statistiquement la valeur du commerce des services persistent et les données de la balance des paiements sur les services peuvent être inférieures à la valeur des transactions réelles.

Notes:

All indicators refer to non-resident tourists or international visitors. This includes all persons who arrive in an economy to stay for less than a year for business purposes or personal reasons. Tourists are those who stay at least one night in a collective or private accommodation in a country visited. Same-day visitors are persons who do not stay overnight in a country visited.

Tourism expenditures correspond to the item "Travel receipts" in IMF balance of payments data. It refers to expenditures of non-resident tourists and visitors within the territory of a reporting economy. Transport expenditures are not included.

Tourists' overnight stays refer to the number of nights spent by non-resident tourists in a reporting country and concern all types of tourism accommodation.

Arrivals of tourists represent the total number of non-resident tourists and visitors who arrived in a reporting economy during a given year. When the same person visits a country several times in a year, the total number of arrivals is counted. Similarly, when a person travels to several countries during one trip, her/his arrival in each country is recorded separately.

Countries differ in the way in which they count arrivals: some take into account all arrivals of non-resident visitors at national borders, while others count arrivals at hotels and other types of tourism accommodation. For more information refer to the World Tourism Organization's Compendium of Tourism Statistics 2002.

Average length-of-stay figures refer to the average number of days spent by a non-resident tourist in a reporting country.

Notes :

Tous les indicateurs se réfèrent aux touristes non-résidents ou aux visiteurs internationaux. Cela inclut des personnes qui arrivent sur le territoire d'une économie pour y rester moins d'une année pour affaires ou pour des raisons personnelles. Les touristes sont ceux qui séjournent dans le pays visité au moins une nuit dans un logement collectif ou privé. Les visiteurs d'une journée sont des personnes qui ne passent pas la nuit dans le pays visité.

Les dépenses dans le tourisme correspondent à la rubrique "Revenus des voyages" de la balance des paiements du FMI. Elles se réfèrent aux dépenses des touristes et des visiteurs non résidents sur le territoire de l'économie déclarante. Les dépenses pour le transport n'y sont pas incluses.

Les nuitées des touristes se réfèrent au nombre de nuits (nuitées) que les touristes non résidents ont passées dans le pays déclarant et concernent tout type d'établissement touristique.

Les arrivées des touristes représentent le nombre total de touristes et de visiteurs qui sont arrivés dans l'économie déclarante durant une année. Quand une personne visite un pays plusieurs fois par an, chaque visite est comptée séparément. De même, si quelqu'un se rend dans plusieurs pays durant un voyage, son arrivée dans chaque pays est prise en compte.

Les pays déclarent les arrivées des visiteurs de manières différentes: certains prennent en compte toutes les arrivées aux frontières nationales et d'autres comptent les arrivées dans des hôtels et autres types de logements touristiques. Pour plus d'informations se référer au Compendium des statistiques du tourisme 2002 de l'Organisation mondiale du tourisme.

Les chiffres sur la durée moyenne de séjour se réfèrent au nombre moyen de jours qu'un visiteur non résident a passés dans le pays déclarant.

The countries presented in table 6.1 are those covered in the IMF Balance of Payments Statistics on CD-ROM.

Les pays présentés dans le tableau 6.1 sont ceux analysés dans la Balance of Payments Statistics sur CD-ROM du FMI.

The following explanatory notes are intended to provide a brief description of the balance-of-payments categories presented in table 6.1. There are many exceptions to the definitions of categories and for these the reader should refer to the country notes in the IMF Balance of Payments Statistics Yearbook or the corresponding CD-ROM. For further information on the concepts and definitions used, see the IMF Balance of Payments Manual (1993, BPM 5).

L'objet des notes explicatives qui suivent est de fournir une description brève des rubriques des balances des paiements présentées dans le tableau 6.1. En fait, les définitions des catégories comportent plusieurs exceptions, et pour celles-ci le lecteur doit se référer aux notes par pays du FMI Balance of Payments Statistics Yearbook ou du CD-ROM correspondant. Pour des détails sur les concepts et les définitions utilisés, voir le Manuel de la balance des paiements du FMI (1993, MBP 5).

Balance of payments current account data cover all transactions between residents and non-residents, involving economic values and mainly concerning goods, services, income and current transfers, recorded as gross debits and gross credits.

Les données du compte des transactions courantes de la balance des paiements recouvrent toutes les transactions, entre entités résidentes et non résidentes, portant sur des valeurs économiques, principalement concernant les biens, les services, les revenus et les transferts courants et faisant apparaître les crédits ou les débits bruts.

Column 1. Exports of goods (f.o.b.) and services

Colonne 1. Exportations de biens (f.a.b.) et des services

According to the definition in BPM 5, the goods component in the figures presented in table 6.1 includes general merchandise, goods for processing (gross value of goods before and after processing), repairs on goods (value of repairs only), goods procured in ports and non-monetary gold. The services component in those figures comprises 11 main BPM 5 categories: transportation, travel, communications, construction, insurance, financial services, computer and information services, royalties and licence fees, other business services, personal-cultural-recreational services, and government services n.i.e. Figures on trade in services are provided separately in table 5.1.

Conformément à la définition du MBP 5, la partie des chiffres relative aux biens présentée dans le tableau 6.1 comprend les marchandises générales, les biens importés ou exportés pour subir une transformation (valeur brut des biens avant et après transformation), la valeur des réparations de biens (seulement la valeur des réparations), les biens achetés dans les ports et l'or non monétaire. La partie des chiffres relative aux services comprend 11 catégories principales du MBP 5: transports, voyages, communications, service de bâtiment et travaux publics, assurances, services financiers, services d'informatique et d'information, redevances et droits de licence, autres services aux entreprises, services personnels, culturels et relatifs aux loisirs et services fournis ou reçus par les administrations publiques, n.c.a. Les données sur le commerce des services sont présentées séparément dans le tableau 5.1.

The components of export figures related to goods in table 6.1 differ from those reported in the trade returns in table 1.1 because of adjustments for coverage, valuation, timing, inland freight, etc. Such adjustments are necessary to make the trade statistics compatible with the concepts used in the balance of payments. Further adjustments are applied in cases in which the market price for goods differs from the price used for customs purposes. The valuation problem is probably more important for imports than for exports and is likely to be a factor whenever there is a long delay between the date of sale and the date on which the import duty becomes payable. For additional information on adjustments required for valuation, timing, etc., see the IMF Balance of Payments Manual and the United Nations International Trade Statistics Concepts and Definitions, Statistical Papers (Series M, No. 52).

La partie des données relative aux exportations de biens dans le tableau 6.1 est différente des données présentées dans le tableau 1.1 relatif au commerce mondial. Ces différences sont dues principalement aux ajustements effectués sur la couverture, l'évaluation, la date d'enregistrement des transactions, le fret terrestre, etc. Les ajustements des données relatives aux importations et aux exportations sont nécessaires, car ils permettent de rendre les données du commerce extérieur compatibles avec les concepts employés dans les statistiques de balance des paiements. Les ajustements d'évaluation sont requis, en particulier dans les cas où les prix du marché auxquels les marchandises ont été vendues diffèrent des prix utilisés par les autorités douanières. Ce problème d'évaluation est probablement plus important pour les importations que pour les exportations et devient un sérieux facteur lorsque s'écoule une longue période entre la date de vente et la date à laquelle les importations deviennent redevables de droits de douane. Pour de plus amples détails sur les ajustements d'évaluation, de date d'enregistrement des transactions, etc., se référer aux publications suivantes: FMI Manuel de la balance des paiements, et ONU Statistiques du commerce international – Concepts et définitions, Etudes statistiques (Série M, No. 52).

Column 2. Imports of goods (f.o.b.) and services

Colonne 2. Importations de biens (f.a.b.) et des services

Adjustments for coverage, valuation, timing, etc., are made to imports reported in trade returns, as described in the notes for column 1. In addition, an adjustment is made to convert imports from a c.i.f. to an f.o.b. basis for those countries reporting imports c.i.f.

Les ajustements au titre de la couverture, de l'évaluation, de la date d'enregistrement des transactions, etc. sont également effectués sur les données présentant des importations, comme décrit ci-dessus dans les notes portant sur la colonne 1. Par ailleurs, les importations déclarées sur la base c.a.f. sont converties sur la base f.a.b. pour les pays qui reportent c.a.f.

Column 3. Balance on goods and services

The figures presented show the balance on trade in goods (f.o.b./f.o.b. basis) and services.

Column 4. Income – debit – total

Income figures shown on the debit side comprise compensation of non-resident employees and investment income payments on external financial assets and liabilities. Included in the investment income are payments on direct investment (column 5), and portfolio and other investment. Column 4 presents total payments for income.

Column 5. Direct investment income – debit

The heading includes two categories: income on equity and income on debt, as income accruing to a direct investor residing in one economy from the ownership of direct investment capital in another economy. Income on direct investment is presented on a net basis for both direct investment abroad and in the reporting economy (i.e. receipts of income on equity and income on debt less payments on income on equity and income on debt for each).

Column 6. Income – credit – total

This is a counterpart to column 4. Column 6 presents total receipts for income.

Column 7. Direct investment income – credit

This is a counterpart to column 5.

Column 8. Current transfers – net

Transfers are defined as economic values exchanged without quid pro quo (without reciprocity). BPM 5 distinguishes current and capital transfers. Current transfers comprise two main categories: general government and other transfers. General government transfers include transfers – in cash or in kind – between governments of different economies or between governments and international organizations (international cooperation). Other transfers occur between other sectors of the economy and non-residents of that economy and can take place between individuals, non-governmental institutions, organizations and groups. Workers' remittances also fall into this category.

Column 9. Current account balance

Balance of payments current account data cover all transactions between residents and non-residents, involving economic values and concerning goods, services, income and current transfers, recorded as gross debits and gross credits.

Colonne 3. Balance des biens et des services

Les chiffres présentés montrent la balance du commerce de biens (f.a.b./f.a.b.) et des services.

Colonne 4. Revenu – débit – total

Les chiffres relatifs au revenu et montrés comme débit comprennent la rémunération des salariés non résidents et les paiements du revenu des investissements afférents aux avoirs ou engagements financiers extérieurs. Le revenu des investissements se subdivise en paiements provenant d'investissement direct (colonne 5), d'investissement de portefeuille et d'autre investissement. La colonne 4 montre les paiements totaux du revenu.

Colonne 5. Revenu d'investissement direct – débit

Deux catégories figurent sous cette rubrique : titres de participation et titres de créance. Ils recouvrent les revenus que rapportent à un investisseur direct, résidant dans une économie, des capitaux d'investissement direct qu'il possède dans une entreprise située dans une autre économie. Aussi bien pour les investissements directs à l'étranger que pour ceux de l'étranger, c'est le montant net des revenus que l'on reporte (autrement dit : dans chaque cas, les revenus perçus moins les revenus versés).

Colonne 6. Revenu – crédit – total

Voir la description de la colonne 4. La colonne 6 présente les recettes totales des revenus.

Colonne 7. Revenu d'investissement direct – crédit

Voir la description de la colonne 5.

Colonne 8. Transferts courants – nets

Les transferts sont définis comme des valeurs économiques échangées sans quid pro quo (sans réciprocité). MBP 5 distingue transferts courants et transferts capitaux. Les transferts courants se répartissent en deux grandes catégories sectorielles: les administrations publiques et les autres secteurs. Parmi les transferts courants des administrations publiques on trouve les transferts – en espèces ou en nature – entre les administrations publiques de différentes économies ou entre les administrations publiques et les organisations internationales (coopération internationale). Les transferts d'autres secteurs s'opèrent entre tous les autres secteurs d'une économie et les non résidents de celle-ci. Ils peuvent avoir lieu entre les particuliers, les institutions non gouvernementales, les organisations et les groupes. Les envois de fonds des travailleurs sont également inclus sous cette rubrique.

Colonne 9. Solde du compte des transactions courantes

Les données du compte des transactions courantes de la balance des paiements recouvrent toutes les transactions, entre entités résidentes et non résidentes, portant sur des valeurs économiques et principalement concernant les biens, les services, les revenus et les transferts courants, faisant apparaître les crédits ou les débits bruts.

6.3 Workers' remittances

Sources : IMF, Balance of Payments Statistics on CD-ROM.

Notes:

According to the definition of the IMF Balance of Payments Manual (1993, BPM 5), workers' remittances are goods and financial instruments transferred by migrants living and working (being residents) in a new economy to residents of the economy in which the migrants formerly resided. A migrant must live and work in the new economy for more than one year to be considered a resident there.

The IMF Balance of Payments Manual (BPM 5) classifies workers' remittances separately from compensation of employees and from migrants' capital transfers. Table 6.3 includes all three components in the values shown, in order to present a clearer picture of the flows that enter or exit economies via transfers by migrant workers. In the 2002 version of the Handbook only the workers' remittances were shown.

1 Fifty developing countries and territories selected and ranked according to the 2000 values for each flow of workers' remittances.

6.3 Envois de fonds des travailleurs

Sources : FMI, Balance of Payments Statistics sur CD-ROM.

Notes :

Selon la définition du Manuel de la balance des paiements du FMI (1993, MBP 5), les envois de fonds des travailleurs sont les transferts de biens ou d'actifs financiers effectués par les migrants qui vivent et travaillent (sont considérés résidents) dans une économie en faveur des résidents de leur ancien pays de résidence. Un migrant doit vivre et travailler dans une nouvelle économie durant plus d'une année pour y être considéré résident.

Le Manuel de la balance des paiements du FMI (MBP 5) distingue séparément les envois de fonds des travailleurs, la rémunération des salariés et les transferts de capital des migrants. Les valeurs dans le tableau 6.3 incluent les trois catégories mentionnées, afin de brosse une présentation plus exhaustive des flux entrants ou sortants d'une économie à travers les transferts réalisés par les travailleurs migrants. La version 2002 du Manuel de statistiques incluait seulement les versements des travailleurs.

1 Cinquante pays et territoires en développement choisis et classés d'après les valeurs de 2000 des envois de fonds des travailleurs.

6.4 International reserves of developing countries and territories

Sources: IMF, International Financial Statistics on CD-ROM.

Notes: International Reserves refer to Total reserves minus gold. According to the IMF definition, Total reserves minus gold consists of the sum of the country's Foreign exchange, their Reserve position in the Fund and the US dollar value of SDR holdings by their monetary authorities.

1 Reserve stock of the year divided by the average monthly imports of the current and following year. Data on imports are based on figures shown in table 1.1 of this manual. Data for year 2002 have been calculated on the basis of monthly imports of the current year.

2 Reserves data have been revised starting with 1996 because national financial authorities have modified their methodology for classification of foreign assets. For details, please refer to the source.

6.4 Réerves internationales des pays et territoires en développement

Sources : FMI, International Financial Statistics sur CD-ROM.

Notes : Les réserves internationales se réfèrent aux Réerves totales moins l'or. Selon la définition du FMI, les Réerves totales moins l'or représentent la somme des avoirs du pays en devises, leur position des réserves au FMI et la valeur en dollars E.U. des avoirs en DTS de leurs autorités monétaires.

1 Montant des réserves de l'année, divisé par la moyenne mensuelle des importations de l'année en cours et de l'année suivante. Les données des importations se basent sur les chiffres présentés dans le tableau 1.1 de ce manuel. Les chiffres pour l'année 2002 ont été calculés sur la base des importations mensuelles de l'année en cours.

2 Les données des réserves ont été révisées à partir de 1996, à cause d'une modification de la part des autorités financières nationales, de leur méthodologie de classification des avoirs extérieurs. Pour plus de détails, se reporter à la source.

6.5 Official financial flows from bilateral and multilateral sources to developing countries

Sources: Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD)/Development Assistance Committee (DAC): International Development Statistics online database.

Notes:

Official financial flows refer to net disbursements by official sources to a recipient country. Net disbursements refer to the actual amounts disbursed (gross disbursements) less repayments of principal in respect of earlier loans.

Developing countries in this table are aid recipients included in the DAC List of Aid Recipients (see the OECD/DAC Geographical Distribution of Financial Flows to Aid Recipients, 1994-1998).

Unspecified groups distributed by region show flows corresponding to disbursements allocated not to an individual recipient country but to a group of countries, as classified in the Geographical Distribution of Financial Flows to Aid Recipients of the OECD.

Such unspecified flows are not included in the categories defined by the economic groupings.

1 ODA (Official development assistance): Loans administered with the main objective of promoting the economic development and welfare of developing countries.

OA (Official aid): Loans meeting the same criteria as those of ODA, but OA loans are directed to countries listed in Part II of the DAC List of Aid Recipients.

Both ODA and OA are concessional. According to the DAC's definitions, concessional loans are those that have a grant element of 25 per cent or more, whereas non-concessional loans carry a grant element of less than 25 per cent.

Grant element reflects the financial terms of a transaction: interest rate, maturity (interval to final repayment) and grace period (interval to the first repayment of capital).

2 OOF (other official flows) are loans with a target other than economic development and welfare of the aid recipient, or loans with a grant element of less than 25 per cent. They are non-concessional.

3 Includes loans from Arab countries (OPEC bilateral) and Arab agencies (OPEC multilateral). The member countries of OPEC (Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries) are: Algeria, Indonesia, Iraq, Islamic Republic of Iran, Kuwait, the Libyan Arab Jamahiriya, Nigeria, Qatar, Saudi Arabia, United Arab Emirates and Venezuela.

4 The member countries of the DAC (Development Assistance Committee) are: Australia, Austria, Belgium, Canada, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Luxembourg, Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, the United Kingdom and the United States. The Commission of the European Communities is also a member of the DAC.

5 DAC financial flows from multilateral sources cover the World Bank, regional development banks, other multilateral and intergovernmental agencies, concessional flows from the IMF and the Social Loans programme of the European Resettlement Fund. Not included are loans from funds administered by an international organization on behalf of a single donor government; this category is included in bilateral loans (from governments).

6.5 Flux financiers publics bilatéraux et multilatéraux à destination des pays en développement

Sources: Organisation de coopération et de développement économiques (OCDE)/Comité d'aide au développement (CAD): Statistiques sur le développement international, base de données en ligne.

Notes:

Les flux financiers publics représentent les versements nets des organismes officiels aux pays en développement. Les versements nets correspondent aux montants effectivement versés (versements bruts) moins le remboursement du capital au titre de prêts antérieurs.

Les bénéficiaires de l'aide sont des pays en développement compris dans la Liste des bénéficiaires de l'aide établie par le CAD (voir OCDE/CAD Répartition géographique des ressources financières allouées aux pays bénéficiaires de l'aide, 1994-1998).

Les groupes non-spécifiés distribués par région montrent des flux correspondants à des versements qui ne sont pas distribués par pays bénéficiaire mais par des groupes de pays tels qu'ils sont définis dans la Répartition géographique des ressources financières, de l'OCDE. Ces flux non-spécifiés ne sont pas compris dans les catégories définies par des groupements économiques.

1 APD (Aide publique au développement): Prêts dispensés dans le but de favoriser le progrès économique et social des pays en développement.

AP (Aide publique): prêts qui obéissent aux mêmes critères que l'APD, mais l'AP est destinée à des pays inscrits dans la partie II de la Liste des bénéficiaires de l'aide, établie par le CAD.

L'APD et l'AP sont des prêts assortis de conditions libérales. Selon les définitions du CAD, les prêts assortis de conditions libérales comportent un élément de libéralité d'au moins 25 pour cent tandis que les prêts assortis de conditions non libérales ont un élément de libéralité inférieur à 25 pour cent.

L'élément de libéralité résume les conditions financières d'une opération: taux d'intérêt, durée de remboursement (délai jusqu'au remboursement final) et différé d'amortissement (délai jusqu'au premier remboursement du capital).

2 AASP (Autres apports du secteur public): ce sont des prêts dont le but essentiel n'est pas celui du développement économique ni l'amélioration du niveau de vie du bénéficiaire de l'aide ou des prêts assortis d'un élément de libéralité inférieur à 25 pour cent. Ces transactions sont assorties des conditions du marché.

3 Y compris des prêts en provenance des pays arabes (OPEP, bilatérale) et d'organismes financés par des pays arabes (OPEP, multilatérale). Les pays membres de l'OPEP (Organisation des pays exportateurs de pétrole) sont les suivants: Algérie, Arabie saoudite, Emirats arabes unis, Indonésie, Iraq, Jamahiriya arabe libyenne, Koweït, Nigéria, Qatar, République islamique d'Iran et Vénézuéla.

4 Les pays membres du CAD (Comité d'aide au développement) sont les suivants: Allemagne, Australie, Autriche, Belgique, Canada, Danemark, Espagne, Etats-Unis, Finlande, France, Grèce, Irlande, Italie, Japon, Luxembourg, Norvège, Nouvelle-Zélande, Pays-Bas, Portugal, Royaume-Uni, Suède et Suisse. La Commission de la communauté européenne est aussi membre du CAD.

5 Les apports financiers du CAD en provenance des sources multilatérales se rapportent aux organismes tels que la Banque mondiale, les banques régionales de développement, d'autres organismes multilatéraux et intergouvernementaux, et comprennent des apports concessionnels du FMI et le programme de prêts sociaux du Fonds de rétablissement européen. Ne sont pas compris les prêts provenant des fonds d'un gouvernement administrés par une organisation internationale; cette catégorie est incluse dans la rubrique des sources bilatérales (de gouvernements).

6.6 External long-term debt of developing countries, by source of lending

Millions of dollars

Sources: World Bank, Global Development Finance 2002 (GDF2002).

Notes:

External debt data in this table are based on the Debtor Reporting System (DRS) maintained by the World Bank.

Long-term external debt is defined as debt that has an original or extended maturity of more than one year, is owed to non-residents and is repayable in foreign currency, goods or services. It is composed of public, publicly guaranteed and private non-guaranteed debt.

These series do not include data for the Republic of Korea as it was not covered in the Global Development Finance 2002 publication. For more details, please consult the GDF2002.

1 Covers public and publicly guaranteed debt from official and private sources.

Public debt is an external obligation of a public debtor, whether it is a national government or a political subdivision (or an agency of either), or an autonomous public body.

Publicly guaranteed debt is an external obligation of a private debtor that is guaranteed for repayment by a public entity.

2 Loans from the official sector are at concessional and non-concessional terms. For definition refer to table 6.5.

3 This item covers loans from governments and their agencies (including central banks), loans from autonomous bodies and direct loans from official export credit agencies.

4 For definition refer to table 6.5.

5 For definition refer to table 6.5.

6 Includes loans and credits from the World Bank, regional development banks, and other multilateral and intergovernmental agencies. It does not include loans from funds administered by an international organization on behalf of a single donor government; this category is included in bilateral loans (from governments).

7 Includes credits from manufacturers, exporters and other suppliers of goods.

8 Loans from the financial market sector cover publicly issued or privately placed bonds, loans from private banks and other financial institutions.

9 Non-guaranteed private debt is an external obligation of a private debtor that is not guaranteed for repayment by a public entity.

6.6 Dette extérieure à long terme des pays en développement, par catégorie de prêt

Millions de dollars

Sources: Banque mondiale, Global Development Finance 2002 (GDF2002).

Notes:

Les données de la dette extérieure présentées dans ce tableau se basent sur le Système de notification des pays débiteurs (SNPD), géré par la Banque mondiale.

La dette extérieure à long terme a une durée (d'origine ou différée) de remboursement supérieure à une année, et son amortissement est dû en monnaies convertibles ou en nature, à des créanciers non résidents. Elle se compose de la dette publique, la dette garantie et celle non garantie du secteur privé.

Ces séries chronologiques n'incluent pas les données de la République de Corée parce que le rapport Global Development Finance 2002 ne couvre pas ce pays. Pour plus d'informations, veuillez consulter le GDF2002.

1 Couvre la dette publique et la dette garantie par le secteur public, en provenance des sources publiques et privées.

La dette publique concerne un débiteur du secteur public, y compris un gouvernement, une entité politique (ou leurs agents d'exécution), ou d'autres organismes publics autonomes.

La dette garantie par le secteur public concerne un débiteur du secteur privé, dont l'amortissement de la dette est garanti par une entité publique.

2 Les prêts du secteur public sont assortis de conditions libérales et non libérales. Pour la définition, se reporter au tableau 6.5.

3 Cette rubrique comprend des prêts accordés par des gouvernements et des organismes publics (y compris les banques centrales), des prêts en provenance d'entités autonomes et des prêts octroyés directement par des organismes publics dans la catégorie de crédits à l'exportation.

4 Pour la définition, se reporter au tableau 6.5.

5 Pour la définition, se reporter au tableau 6.5.

6 Sont compris les prêts des sources multilatérales telles que la Banque mondiale, les banques régionales de développement, et autres organismes multilatéraux et intergouvernementaux. Ne sont pas compris les prêts provenant des fonds d'un gouvernement, administrés par une organisation internationale; cette catégorie est incluse dans la rubrique des sources bilatérales (des gouvernements).

7 Les crédits fournisseurs comprennent les crédits du secteur manufacturier, du secteur des exportations et ceux du secteur des crédits accordés par d'autres fournisseurs de biens.

8 Les prêts du secteur des marchés financiers recouvrent les émissions publiques ou privées des obligations et des prêts consentis par des banques privées et autres entités financières.

9 La dette du secteur privé non garantie concerne un débiteur du secteur privé, dont l'amortissement de la dette n'est pas garanti par une entité publique.

Il peut donc y avoir des différences entre la somme des éléments constituants et les totaux indiqués.

7.6 Selected telecommunication indicators: television sets, telephones, personal computers and Internet

Sources:

International Telecommunication Union (ITU), World Telecommunication Indicators, CD-ROM.

Notes:

The data presented refer to the year 2001 unless otherwise indicated by "a".

a Data refer to the year 2000

Column number:

- (5) "Three minute mobile phone call" refers to a local call from a cellular phone during peak hours. Its cost is expressed in dollars.
- (6) "Three minute fixed-line phone call" refers to a local call from a residential phone during peak hours. Its cost is expressed in dollars.
- (8) Estimates.
- (9) Internet hosts refer to the number of computers in an economy that are directly linked to the worldwide Internet network. This statistic is based on the country code in the host address and thus may not correspond to the actual physical location.
- (10) Refers to the earnings of enterprises that are directly making available facilities for providing telecommunications services to the public (not including revenues of resellers). This includes revenues from fixed telephone, mobile and text (telex, telegraph and facsimile), communications leased circuits; and data communications services. Some countries include telecommunications-related revenue such as directory advertising and equipment rental or sales. Others include value-added telecommunications services such as the provision of electronic mail or online services. This indicator is expressed in millions of dollars.
- (11) The indicator presents data for 1999, 2000 and 2001. Refers to expenditures associated with acquiring ownership of telecommunication equipment infrastructure (including supporting land and buildings and intellectual and non-tangible property such as computer software). These include expenditures on initial installations and on additions to existing installations. This indicator is expressed in millions of dollars.

7.6 Quelques indicateurs des télécommunications : postes téléviseurs, téléphones, ordinateurs personnels et Internet

Sources :

Union internationale de télécommunication (UIT) , World Telecommunication Indicators, CD-ROM.

Notes :

Les données présentées se réfèrent à l'année 2001. Les exceptions sont marquées par "a".

a Les données se réfèrent à l'année 2000

Numéro de colonnes:

- (5) L'appel de trois minutes par téléphone mobile se réfère à un appel local d'un téléphone portable aux heures de pointe. Le coût est exprimé en dollars.
- (6) L'appel de trois minutes par téléphone du réseau fixe se réfère à un appel local d'un téléphone résidentiel aux heures de pointe. Le coût est exprimé en dollars.
- (8) Estimations.
- (9) Les hébergeurs d'Internet sont définis comme les ordinateurs dans une économie qui sont directement liés au réseau mondial d'Internet. Ces statistiques se basent sur les codes des pays dans les adresses d'hébergeurs et ne correspondent pas toujours à l'emplacement physique de l'ordinateur.
- (10) Se réfère aux revenus des entreprises qui sont fournisseurs directs de services de télécommunication au public (revenus des ventes exclus). Cela comprend des revenus de téléphone fixe, de communications de mobiles, de transmission de textes (télex, télégraphe, télécopie), des circuits en location (en bail) et de services de transmission de données. Quelques pays y incluent d'autres revenus liés aux télécommunications comme les publicités dans les annuaires et la location ou la vente d'équipements. D'autres y incluent les services tenant lieu de valeur ajoutée, comme courrier électronique ou autres services en ligne. Cet indicateur est présenté en millions de dollars.
- (11) Se réfère aux années 1999, 2000 et 2001. Comprend les dépenses associées à l'acquisition d'équipements et d'infrastructures des télécommunications (y compris des terrains, des bâtiments, la propriété intellectuelle et autre propriété comme des logiciels etc.). Cela inclut les dépenses pour des installations initiales et toutes les additions aux installations existantes. L'indicateur est présenté en millions de dollars.

8.1 Tentative terms of trade estimates for developing countries and territories

(concluded)

Sources:

Asian Development Bank (ADB): Key Indicators of Developing Asian and Pacific Countries, 2002; UN, Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean (ECLAC); IMF: International Financial Statistics (IFS), on-line; UN/DESA/SD: Monthly Bulletin of Statistics (MBS), 2003; World Bank: World Bank Africa Database on CD-ROM, 2003 and national sources.

Notes:

Regional and overall indices are presented in Part II of this Handbook, while the detailed annual data for individual countries and territories are shown in table 8.1.

In some instances these indices might differ from the estimates published in official sources, since the main aim has been to provide tentative estimates for most developing countries on a comparable basis.

Definitions:

Values indices:

Current value of exports (f.o.b.) or of imports (c.i.f.) converted to dollars and expressed as a percentage of the average for the base period (1995).

Unit value indices:

Official data and UNCTAD secretariat estimates (see appendix to TD/138/Supp.1).

Quantum indices:

The ratio of the export (or import) value index to the corresponding unit value index.

Terms of trade:

The "net barter" terms of trade, defined as percentage ratio of the export unit value index to the import unit value index.

Purchasing power of exports:

The value index of exports deflated by the import unit value index.

8.1 Estimations approximatives des termes de l'échange pour les pays et territoires en développement (fin)

1995 = 100

Sources :

Banque de développement de l'Asie : Key Indicators of Developing Asian and Pacific Countries, 2002; ONU, Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean (ECLAC); FMI: International Financial Statistics (IFS), on-line; ONU/DAES/DS: Monthly Bulletin of Statistics (MBS), 2003; Banque mondiale: World Bank Africa Database on CD-ROM, 2003 et sources nationales.

Notes :

Les indices totaux et régionaux sont présentés dans la partie II de ce Manuel, tandis que les données annuelles détaillées pour les pays et territoires en développement individuels sont présentées dans le tableau 8.1.

Dans certains cas ces indices peuvent différer des estimations publiées dans les sources officielles, le but principal étant de fournir des estimations approximatives et comparables pour la plupart des pays en développement.

Définitions :

Indices des valeurs :

Valeurs courantes des exportations (f.a.b.) ou des importations (c.a.f.) converties en dollars et exprimées en pourcentage de la moyenne de la période de base (1995).

Indices de la valeur unitaire :

Données officielles et estimations du secrétariat de la CNUCED (voir appendice au document TD/138/Supp.1).

Indices du quantum :

Représentent le rapport de l'indice de la valeur des exportations (ou des importations) à l'indice de la valeur unitaire correspondant.

Terme de l'échange :

Il s'agit de ce qu'on appelle le "troc net", défini comme étant le rapport de l'indice de la valeur unitaire des exportations et de l'indice de la valeur unitaire des importations exprimé en pourcentage.

Pouvoir d'achat des exportations :

Indice de la valeur des exportations corrigé par l'indice de la valeur unitaire des importations.

8.2 Concentration and diversification indices of exports and imports by country

Sources: Based on UNCTAD secretariat calculations.

Notes:

- 1 Within each group shown, countries are ranked according to the concentration index in 2001.
- 2 Number of products (at the three-digit level of SITC, Revision 2) exported (or imported) by country; this figure includes only those products that are greater than 100,000 dollars or more than 0.3 per cent of the country's total exports (or imports).
- 3 Absolute deviation of the country share from world structure, as follows:

$$S_j = \frac{\sum_i |h_{ij} - h_i|}{2}$$

where h_j = share of commodity i in total exports (or imports) of country j h_i = share of commodity i in total world exports (or imports).

This index is a modified Finger-Kreinin measure of similarity in trade. For more information, please consult the article of Finger, J. M. and M. E. Kreinin (1979), "A measure of 'export similarity' and its possible uses" in the Economic Journal, 89: 905-12.

- 4 The Herfindahl-Hirschmann index is a measure of the degree of market concentration. It has been normalized to obtain values ranking from 0 to 1 (maximum concentration), according to the following formula:

$$H_j = \frac{\sqrt{\sum_{i=1}^{239} \left(\frac{x_i}{X}\right)^2} - \sqrt{1/239}}{1 - \sqrt{1/239}}$$

where H_j = country index
 x_i = value of exports of product i

$$X = \sum_{i=1}^{239} x_i$$

and 239 = number of products (at the three-digit level of SITC, Revision 2) .

- 5 World and regional and economic groupings represent trade value-weighted averages of individual countries data, including those that are estimated and not shown separately.

8.2 Indices de concentration et de diversification des exportations et des importations par pays

Sources : Calculs du secrétariat de la CNUCED.

Notes :

- 1 A l'intérieur de chaque groupe, les pays sont classés d'après l'indice de concentration en 2001.
- 2 Nombre de produits (position à trois chiffres de la CTCl, révision 2) exportés (ou importés) par chaque pays ; cependant, seuls les produits ayant une valeur supérieure à 100.000 dollars ou comptant pour plus de 0,3 pour cent des exportations (ou des importations) totales du pays sont inclus.
- 3 Déviation absolue de la structure du pays par rapport à la structure mondiale comme ci-dessous :

$$S_j = \frac{\sum_i |h_{ij} - h_i|}{2}$$

où h_{ij} = part du produit i dans le total des exportations (ou importations) du pays j h_i = part du produit i dans le total des exportations (ou importations) mondiales.

Cet indice est une variante de l'indicateur de Finger-Kreinin sur la similarité de la structure du commerce. Pour plus d'information, veuillez consulter l'article de Finger, J. M. et M. E. Kreinin (1979), "A measure of 'export similarity' and its possible uses", dans l'Economic Journal, 89: 905-12.

- 4 L'indice Herfindahl-Hirschmann mesure le degré de concentration des marchés. Il a été normalisé afin d'obtenir des valeurs comprises entre 0 et 1 (concentration maximale), d'après la formule suivante:

$$H_j = \frac{\sqrt{\sum_{i=1}^{239} \left(\frac{x_i}{X}\right)^2} - \sqrt{1/239}}{1 - \sqrt{1/239}}$$

où H_j = indice du pays x_i = valeur des exportations du produit i

$$X = \sum_{i=1}^{239} x_i$$

et 239 = nombre de groupes de produits (position à trois chiffres de la CTCl, révision 2).

- 5 Les indices calculés au niveau du monde, des régions et des groupements économiques sont la moyenne pondérée des indices des pays par la valeur de leur commerce international, y compris ceux qui sont estimés et ne sont pas présentés séparément.

8.3 Concentration and structural change indices of exports and imports by product

Sources:

UN/DESA/Statistics Division (COMTRADE database and estimates).

Indices are calculated from the data set that includes not only official country trade data reported to the COMTRADE but also estimates provided by the United Nations Statistics Division for all the other countries.

Notes:

1 Products are ranked according to the concentration index in 2001.

2 Market concentration index:

The Herfindahl-Hirschmann index is a measure of the degree of market concentration. It has been normalized to obtain values ranking from 0 to 1 (maximum concentration), according to the following formula:

$$H_i = \frac{\sqrt{\sum_{j=1}^n \left(\frac{x_{ij}}{X_j}\right)^2} - \sqrt{\frac{1}{n}}}{1 - \sqrt{\frac{1}{n}}}$$

where

H_i = value of concentration index for product i x_{ij} = value of exports or imports for country j and product i

$$X_j = \sum_{i=1}^n x_{ij} \text{ and}$$ n = 242 maximum number of individual markets (countries) over the period from 1990 to 2001.

An index value that is close to 1 indicates a very concentrated market. On the contrary, values closer to 0 reflect a more equal distribution of market shares among exporters or importers.

3 Structural change index:

This index, ranging from 0 to 1 reveals the structural change in trade for a particular product as compared to the reference year (1992 = 0).

An index value close to 1 indicates a significant change in the composition of exporters (importers). On the contrary, values closer to 0 would demonstrate a higher degree of "traditionality" in the markets over the period concerned. The value is calculated as follows:

$$I_i = \frac{\sum_{j=1}^n |S_{ij}^1 - S_{ij}^0|}{2}$$

where

I_i = Value of structure index for product i

S_{ij}^0 = Share of trade of product i for country j in 1992

S_{ij}^1 = Share of trade of product i for the country j in the concerned year

8.3 Indices de concentration et de changement structurel des exportations et des importations par produits

Sources :

ONU/DAES/Division de statistique (Base de données COMTRADE et estimations).

Les indices sont calculés à partir de données n'incluant pas seulement les données officielles que les pays fournissent à la COMTRADE, mais aussi à partir d'estimations produites par la division de statistique des Nations Unies pour tous les autres pays.

Notes :

1 Les produits sont classés d'après l'indice de concentration en 2001.

2 Indice de concentration :

L'indice Herfindahl-Hirschmann mesure le degré de concentration des marchés. Il a été normalisé afin d'obtenir des valeurs comprises entre 0 et 1 (concentration maximale), d'après la formule suivante:

$$H_i = \frac{\sqrt{\sum_{j=1}^n \left(\frac{x_{ij}}{X_j}\right)^2} - \sqrt{\frac{1}{n}}}{1 - \sqrt{\frac{1}{n}}}$$

où

H_i = Valeur de l'indice de concentration pour le produit i.

x_{ij} = Valeur des exportations ou des importations du pays j pour le produit i

$$X_j = \sum_{i=1}^n x_{ij} \text{ et}$$ n = 242 Nombre maximum de marchés (pays) sur la période allant de 1990 à 2001.

Un indice proche de 1 indique une concentration très forte du marché pour ce produit en particulier. En revanche, une valeur proche de 0 démontre une répartition plus homogène du commerce entre les exportateurs ou les importateurs.

3 Indice de changement structurel :

Cet indice, dont la valeur est comprise entre 0 et 1, représente les changements de structure du commerce par rapport à une année de référence (1992 = 0). Une valeur proche de 1 indique un important changement structurel du commerce de ce produit, c'est à dire, une grande variation des parts de marché au sein des exportateurs ou importateurs, par rapport à l'année de référence. Plus la valeur de l'indice est proche de 0, plus la structure du commerce de ce produit est stable. Il est calculé comme suit :

$$I_i = \frac{\sum_{j=1}^n |S_{ij}^1 - S_{ij}^0|}{2}$$

où

I_i = Valeur de l'indice de changement structurel, pour le produit i.

S_{ij}^0 = Part du commerce du produit i pour le pays j par rapport au commerce total de ce produit pour l'année 1992

S_{ij}^1 = Part du commerce du produit i pour le pays j, par rapport au commerce total de ce produit pour l'année concernée.

Notes: Product categories are defined in terms of SITC Revision 2, and all corresponding Harmonized System (HS) 6-digit codes have been aggregated for each category.

Notes : Les catégories de produits sont définies sur la base de la CTCl, révision 2, et pour chaque catégorie, les codes à 6 chiffres du Système harmonisé (SH) correspondants ont été agrégés.

MFN: Most Favoured Nation import tariff rate.

NPF : droit de douane appliqué à la Nation la plus favorisée.

Simple average: simple average for each product category calculated from simple average at HS 6-digit level.

Moyenne simple : moyenne arithmétique, pour chaque catégorie de produits, calculée à partir des moyennes arithmétiques au niveau du code à 6 chiffres du SH.

Weighted average: weighted average for each product category calculated from simple average at HS 6-digit level. Country's own imports at HS 6-digit level for corresponding years are used as weights. Where imports are not reported, mirror imports have been compiled using exports of partner countries.

Moyenne pondérée : Moyenne arithmétique pondérée, pour chaque catégorie de produits, calculée à partir des moyennes simples au niveau du code à 6 chiffres du SH. Pour chaque année, on a utilisé les importations de chaque marché au niveau du code à 6 chiffres du SH comme coefficient de pondération. Lorsque les importations n'étaient pas disponibles, elles ont été évaluées par les données miroir basées sur les exportations des pays partenaires.

8.5 Instability indices and trends in free market prices for selected commodities

Sources:

UNCTAD calculations based on UNCTAD Monthly Commodity Price database.

Notes:

1. The measure of price instability is

$$1/n \sum_{t=1}^n \left[\frac{|Y(t) - y(t)|}{y(t)} \right] * 100$$

Where

$Y(t)$ is the observed magnitude of the variable.

$y(t)$ is the magnitude estimated by fitting an exponential trend to the observed value and n is the number of observations.

Accordingly, instability is measured as the percentage deviation of the variables concerned from their exponential trend levels for a given period.

2. The growth rate of each period has been calculated using the formula:

$$\log(p) = a + b(t)$$

Where

p is the price index and t is time.

3. Constant 1985 dollars (current dollars divided by the United Nations unit value index of manufactured goods exported by developed economies).

8.5 Indices d'instabilité et tendances des prix sur le marché libre d'une sélection de produits de base

Sources :

Calculs du secrétariat de la CNUCED fondés sur la Base de données des prix mensuels des produits de base, de la CNUCED.

Notes :

1. L'indice d'instabilité des prix est calculé selon

$$1/n \sum_{t=1}^n \left[\frac{|Y(t) - y(t)|}{y(t)} \right] * 100$$

où

$Y(t)$ est la valeur observée de la variable.

$y(t)$ est la valeur estimée par ajustement à la tendance exponentielle des valeurs observées et n est le nombre d'observations.

L'instabilité est le pourcentage de déviation des variables en question par rapport à la ligne de tendance exponentielle pour une période donnée.

2. Le taux de croissance de chaque période a été calculé selon la formule :

$$\log(p) = a + b(t)$$

où

p est l'indice de prix et t le temps.

3. Dollars constants 1985 (dollar courant divisé par l'index des Nations Unies de la valeur unitaire des exportations des produits manufacturés par les économies développées).
